DETAILED ACTION

The previous office action has been vacated

1. The previous office action has been vacated please respond to the instant office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty designed in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-3, 6-7, 9-10, 13, 15-17, 20-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Carver (1568442).

Carver discloses a pry tool having a working end and resting portion (top of fig.4 above 20 which is an elongated portion), a handle (28) with a projection (12), a receiver (22&23) which has multiple offset angles.

The extension is portion between the tool jaw and ratchet mechanism.

In regard to the method claim, this is merely the natural use of the claimed tool.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-7, 9-10, 12-13, 15-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuo (5931063).

Kuo discloses a pry tool having a working end and resting portion (11 & 18 above 14 which is an elongated portion), a handle (20) with a projection (21), a receiver (16 & 15) which has multiple offset angles.

The extension is element (17).

In regard to the method claim, this is merely the natural use of the claimed tool.

3. Claims 1-3, 5-7, 9-10, 12-13, 15-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suekage (5996448).

Suekage discloses a pry tool having a working end and resting portion (34 & 36 above 31 which is an elongated portion), a handle (2 & (20 which is an extension)) with a projection (24), a receiver (32) which has multiple offset angles.

In regard to the method claim, this is merely the natural use of the claimed tool.

4. Claims 1-3, 7-10, 14, 15-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Spier (5871204)

Spier discloses a pry tool having a working end and resting portion (54 & 52 above 74 which is an elongated portion), a handle (24) with a projection (32) and an extension (19), a receiver (78) which has multiple offset angles.

In regard to the method claim, this is merely the natural use of the claimed tool.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 9 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 4 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Spirer

(5871204)

a. Spirer discloses the claimed invention except for eight pointed star pattern in a ratchet. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made a ratchet with a eight pointed star pattern, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known pad on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 4/14/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

7. Applicant has amended the claims to read over the prior.

a. It does not appear that the applicant has define any different structure that is not already being rejected. The prior appears to be showing the same planes.

It is obvious that an attempt to amend the claims was made; however, the exact direction is being taken by the applicant is not clear only because the art shows the amendments made by the applicant. Applicant is welcome to contact the examiner through email Lee. Wilson @ uspto.gov and/or by phone. Email is better because of any proposed amendments.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
